MESSAGE FROM THE HOD

On behalf of our Commerce department, I extend my warm greetings to everyone. I am pleased to inform that our department has recorded consistent performance in both its academic and placement domains. The objective of our department has always been to impart holistic education. We insist on activity based teaching, variety of pedagogy such as lectures, presentations, knowledge based case studies, quizzes, group discussions, debates etc.

We have committed ourselves to add value to the course and provide high quality education. As a result, students are taken to educational excursions including visit to SEBI, Start- up Expo etc. Moreover, opportunities are provided to students to present their views on contemporary issues by way of presentations, declamation competitions. We also conduct interactive sessions and seminars of industry experts to provide professional guidance for our students. Students are encouraged to organize various events, participate in events organized by other colleges, internship fairs and also get involved in activities of social relevance. The department also conducted its very first alumni meet and it was a huge success. It was overwhelming to know that our graduates are working in multinational companies, academic institutions and other services.

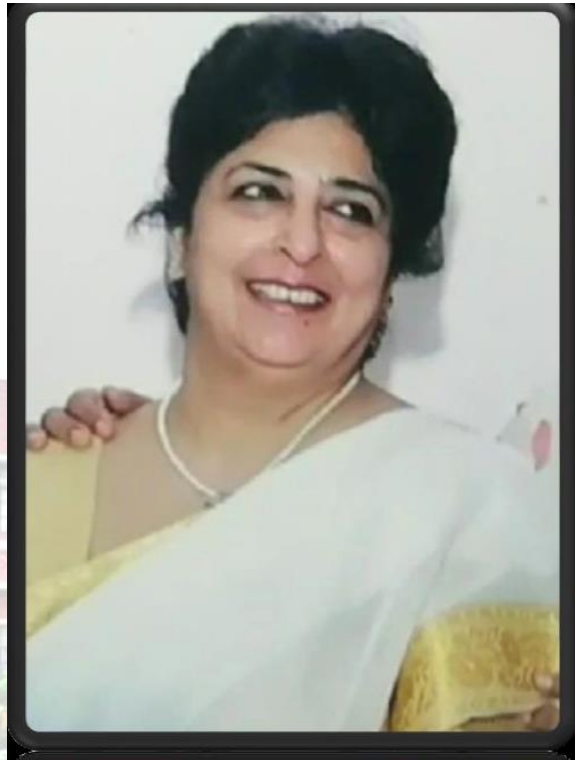

The department is blessed with well qualified and experienced faculties who always keep themselves updated with current developments and continuous learning. All the efforts are ambitiously made to develop the overall personality of the students so as to equip them with sensitive and modern outlook in facing the challenges of this competitive world. With all these inputs one finds our students hardworking, efficient and practical oriented in all the work environments.

With this brief introduction, I welcome you to be a part of our journey. I congratulate to the team of faculty members and the students for their brilliant and original efforts. I wish all the students and faculty a great academic career.

Head of Department

TRIBUTE TO OUR BELOVED MISS JYOTSANA KANUNGO

IN THE LOVING MEMORY OF LATE JYOTSANA KANUNGO

Taking a good look around us and acknowledging each other with a nod, a smile, and maybe even a handshake. Paying attention to the range of ages among the folks we see; chances are very bright that someone near or next to you is a person who was associated with our great Late Jyotsana Kanungo.

As we all know, CS Mrs. Jyotsana Kanungo is no more amidst us. She left us all last year for her journey to the heavenly abode. May she rest in peace. We still remember the day when we got the news of her passing, a million thoughts started racing into our heads and we couldn't help but recall the last time we had met or saw her. But as they say, 'the people we love never ever really leave us', and that's why, today, we will together pay her a tribute not only with a heavy heart, but also with a smiling face because the essence of her personality and humbleness shall stay with us forever. We'd consider ourselves proud to step into her shoes and become as good a person like her one day.

Miss Jyotsana's career and the achievements of her lifetime were extraordinary. She was born on June 27th, 1960. She was always a bright one when it came to academics. Graduated from Daulat Ram College, University of Delhi then pursued LLB from the Faculty of Law, University of Delhi. But that was just not the end of her academic career.

SHYAMA PRASAD MUKHERJI COLLEGE FOR WOMEN
COMMERCE DEPARTMENT

She was a woman with keen interest in Commerce; especially Law made her opt for Companies Secretary (CS) along with and was conferred with FCS from ICSI. Not only this, she has had the honor of becoming the first woman who was the fellow member of ICSI.

Miss Jyotsana also taught at the IP College, Delhi University before joining Shyama Prasad Mukherji College, Delhi University on 1st December 1983. And in our college itself she could enlighten the students by giving splendid teachings and also by being an active member of societies like Ruchika-the hobby society, General Knowledge society, Debating society, etc. She has had an overwhelming experience of over 40 years and she was the epitome of excellence.

Her colleagues always get watery eyes when they remember the spellbound time that they have spent with her as she was capable of moving a person's perception of themselves further along a positive path. This was not a skill she was trained in, indeed it was an artful display of her golden heart. The smile Miss Jyotsana always wore was truly inspirational and she saw something special in each one of us.

Nothing would be as big as her achievement of winning so many hearts and blessings with her simple and ever-so-cheerful nature. We hope you keep on showering your blessings on all of us.

We will be forever thankful to you and your teachings. It was a delight getting to know you and learn from you and we will cherish all the moments spent with you for a lifetime. She has definitely nurtured us to become the best of who we are and no amount of Earthly words can do justice to fully explain what she meant to each one of us.

We will miss you!

TOKENS OF LOVE

.... your life was a blessing; your memory is a treasure. You are loved beyond words and missed beyond measures

AMAR HAIN

अमर हैं

कभी सामने बैठकर पढ़ाती थीं,
किताबों के पार की भी सैर कराती थीं।
उस अमर आत्मा को भूलना है मुश्किल
जो हमें सफलता के सपने दिखाती थीं।

उनकी आँखें और आँखों की चमक
उनका चेहरा और चेहरे की दमक,
वो करुणा भरी आवाज़,
हमें, उनकी याद दिलाती है आज।

यदि ढूँढने को मन चाहे कभी
तो खोजना उन्हें,
उनका आवास शिक्षा की हर गली में है।

EDITORIAL BOARD

It gives me immense pleasure to share the SHILP third edition with all of you.

"SHILP- 2019" is an E -magazine by the students-for the readers". Our aim is to promote and motivate students to write their thoughts in form of words, which could be their subject knowledge, experiences etc. While drafting magazine we are not only confined to articles but we also encouraged students to play with words and pen down words in the form of poem.

Our main emphasis is to incorporate articles not related to commerce but to cover other fields and aspects as well.

I want to thank all the writers who came forward and contributed their articles and poems. It's all your work due to which we are able to have such a wonderful magazine.

In the end, I want to extend my special thanks to my creative team and editorial board for working whole heartedly and giving SHILP 2019 a shape which you all are going to love and cherish forever.

ARTICLESINTERIM BUDGET 2019- HARBINGER OF “ACCHE DIN”

The 1st Budget of the Narendra Modi government was hailed as the harbinger of acche din. FM Piyush Goyal announced big cheer for the salaried and middle-class taxpayers. In a huge boost, taxpayers with income up to Rs 5 lakh will get full rebate, standard deduction was raised by Rs 10,000, capital gains benefit for those selling a house property and reinvesting the proceeds, huge jump of Rs 30,000 in the threshold for TDS on bank interest and income from post office investments. Even the TDS threshold on rental income was hiked substantially from Rs 1.8 lakh to Rs 2.4 lakh, thereby giving relief to landlords. The capital gains benefit on house property and TDS threshold will give a boost to the real estate market.

The FM pegged the fiscal deficit at 3.4%, citing the income support to farmers announced in the budget. Piyush Goyal announced an interest subvention scheme for GST registered SMEs taking a loan. A big income support scheme for farmers by the name of Pradhan Mantri Kisan Samman Nidhi, a pension scheme for unorganized workers called Pradhan Mantri Shram Yogi Mandhan, financial support for co-ops and fisheries are the key highlights of the big budget push towards rural and poor. In his speech in Lok Sabha, finance minister Piyush Goyal announced annual support of Rs 6000 per year for farmers holding land below 2 hectares. ECONOMY AND ENVIRONMENT: COMPETITORS OR PARTNERS?

The economy vs. environment debate started few decades ago and it has become quite a popular one in today's world where economic growth is associated with environmental degradation. There is a common belief in our society that preserving the environment is somehow linked with compromising on economic terms. This very belief has fueled the economy vs. environment debate. However, the truth is exactly opposite to this perception of ours.

It is generally thought that economy and environment are nothing but two sides of a coin as if we aim to improve economy, environment has to suffer but if we try to save our environment, economy will lack behind. But that is not true. Environment and economic development both are equally important for livelihood. Though nowadays it is more often claimed that humanity can develop without causing damage to nature, there still are strong opposing arguments to this hypothesis. Development assumes economic growth, and economic growth is impossible without industry, which needs energy resources. Currently, the range of goods required by common people has expanded significantly compared to the times before modern industrial technology was employed on a mass scale. People feel the need, not only for primary essentials, such as a slice of bread and a roof over their heads, but also for various facilities and luxuries. Providing humanity with these objects involves the exploitation of natural resources. In turn, the conventional sources of energy we use today cause pollution, so economic growth is almost inevitably associated with environmental damage. As one can see, economic growth is connected to environmental damage, and at the current level of development, humanity can hardly avoid harming nature. This is caused by a number of factors, such as the inaccessibility and costliness of alternative sources of energy. But the most significant reason is that constant economic growth leads to the increase in the rate of industrial production. With the expansion of industry, more conventional resources are needed, and since their usage causes severe pollution, it can be concluded that economic growth is inseparable from the damage inflicted on the environment.

If we have to compromise environment for the development of economy it simply means that we need to change our path from gloom to doom to a win-win solution.

Safety of environment is equally important as economic development. Nowadays we have all the facilities to reach to different parts of the world via various routes. Change is the law of life. We always aim at improving us and so the society needs and does as well but developing one at the cost of other is no development. An efficient development is one in which one targets at its own development without making other worse off but this efficiency is not applied while developing society.

There is enough that the planet earth can provide us to satisfy our needs. Our economy can prosper and sustain in the long run without putting undue stress on the natural resources. It is the greed to possess and enjoy as many luxuries as possible that has led to the state in which we find ourselves today.

The path to reach win-win solution is sustainable development. When you ask a school going child the meaning of sustainable development, he has a fixed definition of it- using the resources in such a way to preserve the nation. But what does it actually mean? It doesn't mean to stop usage of resources but to use them in such a way so as to avoid all sorts of wastage. Reducing our consumption at present and harming ourselves is not a solution. Thus conservation is the only need of hour.

The use of green technologies and renewable sources of energy should solve the energy crisis to a great extent without putting any burden on the existing natural resources. It means the economic growth of the country/region in question doesn't get hampered owing to environmental concerns. There is another misconception that conservation efforts require you to spend a lot of money to be successful. In reality, it is the awareness and a bit of effort on our part that can save many trees and animals on this planet. Even a simple act of planting and nurturing a sapling holds great importance in the process of environmental conservation. Such kind of efforts needs to be concentrated in order to bring about a bigger and long-lasting change.

Therefore the economy v/s environment debate ends when all agree to preserve the environment. When economic development is for all, it is the duty of the people to efficiently use the resources so as to preserve them and safeguard our environment.

'SOCIAL MEDIA' - A STRONG TOOL FOR E-COMMERCE

How should I market my e-commerce website? Where should I focus? What should be the relevant steps?

So these are some of the questions that come in the mind of a marketer.

Social media plays an important role in attracting buyers to buy the product from different websites. It's not always about having likes on facebook or followers on twitter it is much more than that. It includes direct sales through some networks and it also allows the customers to share products with their friends through a single click.

Here are some of the ways that you can use social media to promote your e - commerce business.

- Engaging the audience- It allow customers to ask different questions relating to the product that they wish to buy through online help centers. It helps the company in building their reputation and brand loyalty. When it comes to the customer care issues it helps in developing a bond with the customers and retaining them.
- Attractive website and providing links on social media - But despite of that if your website is not attractive and the shoppers aren't attracted towards it then there is no point in spending valuable time on crafting new posts. It could be more effective if one could put some icons and links at the bottom of the page. One should add high quality images of the products in order to craft its presence.

In order to increase its customers, it is essential to offer content that is useful and exciting. It is rightly said that 'the more attractive it is, the more effective it would be'.

- Advertising on social media through pay per click advertising showing discounts- An important way in retaining customers is to reward them with discount offers and pre - order opportunities. Another way is to introduce a flash sale on occasions and offer extremely limited offers that would last for a day or two and showing them on different social media platforms so that customers would share them and buy products.

- You tube is the best platform to promote and showcase your products as it is the largest most visited site that can drive massive traffic to the website.

Establishing yourself in a viable force in the world of e - commerce can be a daunting task, so one must look after the strategy and right tools to track the data....

DISASTER CAUSED BY TERRORISM

We are living among horrors. This world is becoming a dangerous place to live in. Worldwide terrorist activities have destroyed the peace of the world. We all are equally responsible for the unhealthy atmosphere that we have created by mixing the results we have had. The attack of Pulwama, Uri and Al-Qaida on the World Trade Centre in New York has shaken the World. This is the most horrible face of terrorism.

This is certainly not the first and last act of terrorism. India has been the victim of terrorist activities for the past two decades. What difference does it make? Writing articles, conducting debates, talk shows and tea summits might give us city people something new to talk about but it would make no difference whatsoever to any Kashmiri living in a remote corner of Kashmir breathing in an air filled with terror surrounded by gunshots and overtaken by the fear of getting killed at any moment or would it quench the thirst of those hundreds of terrorists who are waiting like hungry vultures to destroy innocent lives.

Does all this media and political hype in any context do us 'people' any good? The answer is big 'NO'.

No one can understand the plight and misery caused to the family of martyrs. It's very hard to bring them back to normal life. What did they do for which they were killed ruthlessly? Serving your motherland isn't a job or service, it's a lifestyle which few people choose to adopt. Our country has the fourth best army in the world. This shows the courage and strength of our soldiers.

We have 'taken up arms' to fight against terrorism but little do we know that we are moving at a 'snail's pace' to eradicate the evils of terrorism. The government of India has launched an 'all out' war against terrorism. For we have received only a partial success. 'Everything is one big rush, with a packed schedule of engagements and things to do. Rushing around we have little time to think about our own safety'.

Gandhiji showed the world the path of non-violence. The teachings of Gandhi are still relevant today.

SHYAMA PRASAD MUKHERJI COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

Terrorism and violence serve no purpose. Innocent children, men and women are the worst victims. Brutal force or violence can't solve any problem. We have the UNO and its agencies and we should work for world peace. It's not easy to achieve all the brotherhood needed overnight but we should not 'leave one to sink or swim'. "After all drop by drop ocean is filled". Why do we sit in front of our television sets like 'drug addicts' because we want to 'help', we want to be 'involved', because we want to 'know' but clearly we all know that our contribution towards the betterment of society is zilch. But we can contribute by taking an initiative and soon terrorism would be rooted out from the society.

WOMEN ENTREPRENEURSHIP: THE RISE AND BARRIERS

Gone are those days when women didn't share the same status as men. This present era accounts for the growth in women involvement and rise in every possible scenario, one big part being entrepreneurship. Long back, when the term "Entrepreneur" was used, a picture of a man used to come in everybody's mind, nobody could imagine women as entrepreneurs for they were bound by the stereotypes that often held them back. But now, the picture of an entrepreneur has changed, both men and women are doing excellent in entrepreneurship. The participation of women is comparatively lesser but no doubts, it is rising at a good pace. Take into account some great female entrepreneurs like Sara Blakely (founder of SPANX), Gisele Bundchen (founder of Seja Skincare), Kiran Mazumdar- Shaw (India's first Biotech entrepreneur, founder of BIOCON). Looking at them is itself inspiring, these are the ladies who left all the stereotypes and stood upfront in achieving their dreams. They have proved that women can not only go into entrepreneurship but can also achieve heights, equivalent as men.

Their success stories have been commendable. "An enterprise owned and controlled by a woman having minimum financial interest of 51% of the capital and giving at least 51% of the employment generated in the enterprise to women" is a woman enterprise. Today, every month, 260 out of every 100,000 women chooses entrepreneurship. Globally, approx. 37% of the enterprises are led by women. That's a good percentage as against a very low proportion in earlier decades. Clearly, the proportion of women in entrepreneurship has been increasing with the increase in awareness, education and the fact of equality. As per recent Global Entrepreneurship Monitor (GEM), 126 million women were starting or running businesses, 98 million were operating established (over three and a half years) businesses. That means there are 224 million women on a whole impacting the global economy and leading examples for other women like them, provided that survey counted only 67 of the 188 countries over all recognized by the World Bank. A woman starting business in India surely faces more challenges than men since here in India, there are a lot of barriers that women face. Sara Blakely invested her whole life savings in her enterprise that was $5000. Likewise, there is a need of finance which usually involves great amounts of savings or self generated funds. Relying solely on loans with no fixed anticipated returns becomes risky. Women surely face more challenges in generating finance. Lack of support by people from their families, society in general and staff, not equipped with basic technical or managerial skills are often the reason because of which women in India are often held back and not allowed to develop as a whole. Although there is a growth in the percentage of girls getting education, still there is a huge gap between male and female literacy. . People still, as of now in current scenario want their girls to sit at home and do household chores. Since women have to manage their home and enterprises, they face limited mobility.

COMMERCE DEPARTMENT

Women often go for jobs or teaching, but when it comes to entrepreneurship, most of the women are laid back. Male Dominated Society affects the growth of women in a lot of aspects. There are a lot of people who still are biased towards women and they feel women can't do better than men and when it comes to higher positions, often men are preferred. A lot of factors, hence affect the decisions taken by women because they have to face a lot of barriers just because of the mind-sets that emerge out due to difference in gender.

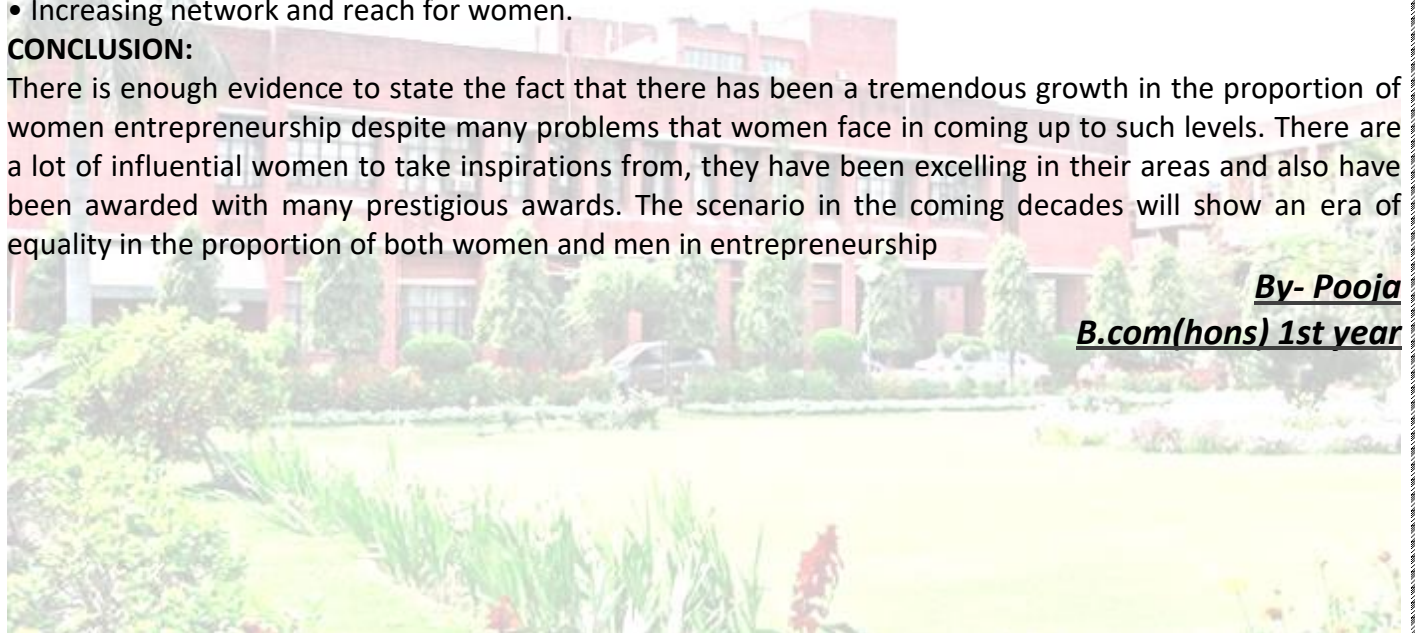

SUGGESTIONS:

- Ease in getting finance. Some empowering schemes especially for women can be devised.
- Awareness can create prospects for anything, likewise for women entrepreneurship.
- Women empowerment activities on a larger scale.
- Training and development
- Household helps
- Childcare facilities
- Policies to ensure equal opportunities
- Start-up programs and relaxations
- Tax policies
- Increasing network and reach for women.

CONCLUSION:

There is enough evidence to state the fact that there has been a tremendous growth in the proportion of women entrepreneurship despite many problems that women face in coming up to such levels. There are a lot of influential women to take inspirations from, they have been excelling in their areas and also have been awarded with many prestigious awards. The scenario in the coming decades will show an era of equality in the proportion of both women and men in entrepreneurship

INDIA NEEDS MORE ENTREPRENEURS

India need more entrepreneurs than employees It is important for you to know about Entrepreneur. Entrepreneur is a person who starts his own business, bears risk related to his business in order to earn profit. Entrepreneurs who prove to be successful in taking on the risks of a startup are rewarded with profits, fame and continued growth opportunities. They are their own boss. “Your real boss is the one who walks around under your hat.” – Napoleon hill.

Why India need more entrepreneurs? Current India’s population is 133.92 crore and it will be 165 crore by 2050. According to the International Labour Organisation (ILO), India’s unemployment rate was 3.5% in 2016 and 2017 and India will again see its unemployment rate at 3.5 per cent in 2019 and 2020. According to the latest data, there will be 18.9 million jobless people in India next year a little more than 18.6 million for 2018. It is worth recalling that a recent report by the World Bank (WB) redflagged India asks to create at least 8.1 million jobs a year to match up to the employment rate of the country. India’s youth and next generation should be “job creator” not “job seeker”. The simple translation is that when you become an entrepreneur, there is one less job seeker in the economy, and then you provide employment for multiple other job seekers. This kind of job creation by new and existing businesses is again one of the basic goals of economic development. The Govt. of India has launched initiatives such as StartupIndia to promote and support new start-ups, and also others like the Make in India initiative to attract foreign companies and their FDI into the Indian economy. This in turn will lead to the creation of large number of job opportunities and will help in augmenting our standard to a global level.

Entrepreneurs mobilize the idle funds which lead to capital formation. The funds which are used by entrepreneurs is a mix of their own fund and borrowed fund. This leads to creation of wealth which is very essential for development of an economy. Effect of increasing employment rate and increase per capita income contribute to better national income in form of higher tax revenue and higher government spending. This revenue can be used by the government to invest in other struggling sectors and human capital. It play a key role in increasing the standard of living of the people by adopting latest innovations in the production of wide variety of goods and services in large scale that too at a lower cost. This enables the people to avail better quality goods at lower prices, which results in the improvement of their standard of living. Entrepreneurs help in promoting a country's export-trade, which is an important ingredient of economic development. They produce goods and services in large scale for the purpose of earning huge amount of foreign exchange from export in order to combat the import dues requirement. Hence import substitution and export promotion ensure economic independence and development. Entrepreneurship directly or indirectly contributing so much to the economy of developing countries like India, Argentina, China etc. The Government cannot fix the economy by itself, it needs technology, innovation and entrepreneurs to lead this change.

MA'AM

I am going to tell you about the precious day of my life, when I met a teacher of a Government school.

It was Monday morning. Me and my mom were going to Government girls Sr. Sec school Roop Nagar No.1 for my admission in 11th standard. I really did not want to take admission in a government school. Near about 10.00 AM, we reached the school. I filled the admission form which I get from the school office. After filling the form, me and mom went to the office to submit it. The teacher who was collecting the form asked me, "Are you from a private school?" I replied, "yes, ma'am." Then she said, "you have to hard work to score better in Government school." I again replied "ok ma'am". When we came out of the office, my mother said to me, "Have not you heard, how politely ma'am was saying everything to you"? I said, "yes mumma." When I was coming back to home that teacher's words were bubbling in my mind.

From the very beginning of the school day, I followed her words. I worked hard and score good. Her word's worth was greater than the marks I scored. From that time, I actually started working hard. That teacher is, Respected Mrs. Anita Jindal. This is how some angles enter into our life to bring favourable changes. I really thank her for the love and support that she provides to her students.

EVEN AND STEVEN

'Men are from earth. Women are from earth Deal with it.' The belief that one gender is superior to the other, especially that men are superior to women exists since ages.

Throughout most of the history, women generally have had fewer legal rights and career opportunities than men. Though today, our Constitution guarantees us a host of freedoms, but how far is that true?

She is not born free. She is neither free inside her house, nor when she steps out of it. She isn't free to pursue the career she wants to or spend whatever she earns in the male-dominated society. She isn't allowed to have, neither express her opinions, for the world is judgemental and decides what is right for her and hence at every thick and thin of her life, she must sit, stand, walk, talk and breathe accordingly. Moreover, this has become so common that even women themselves treat the same as if it's natural and expect a backseat from the initial phase. They don't realise that the car won't start until they accelerate.

We rarely talk about men being imprisoned by gender stereotypes, but it's clearly visible that they are and when they are Free, things will change for women as a natural consequence. It's high time for each one of us to change the mindsets as the root and catalyst of equality. Avoid gender specific nouns. Use humankind instead of mankind. Get honest with people about who you are, what you want and how you expect to be treated. Don't smile if you don't want to. Don't shave your body hair if you like them that way. Cook if you want to. Don't cook if you don't want to. Be logical. Also, it's absolutely and equally fine for men to cry and show their emotions or not give them a seat in the public places.

Your wound isn't your fault but your healing is definitely your responsibility. Universe does make everything horrible and impossible while trying to make a change but it's your duty and right to try and not stay in denial. Trust yourself and the process. You don't need to do what everyone else is doing. If you have never stood with the oppressed, there is still time. Be logical and fearless and the rest will follow as history. You surely want and deserve a better life. So, show up. Speak. Fight.

Give their beliefs a BANG, so that they vanish and BOOM-BOOM is the only thing that lasts. Be you more often.

STAY DEDICATED WITH LUCK & GET YOUR REAL SHINING PEARL

Dedication ! Dedication ! Dedication ! ...C'mon be Dedicated ...as it's Very important to survive otherwise you will get nothing in today's world of chasers. Even The king of our bollywood says that अगर किसी चीज को पूरी शिद्दत से चाहो तो पूरी कायनात तुम्हें उससे मिलवाने में लग जाती है... ...(If you want to do something quietly dedicated, then the whole process takes you into trying to match him) on which I agree I agree. And Not even me, the whole fan of Shahrukh khan agrees because they believe in Shahrukh khan or they might have experienced that शिद्दत even the one who is even doesn't like watching Shahrukh...Whatevrrrr.... But have you noticed something that even शिद्दत is also doing the कोशिश accompanied with सजिश (inducement with planning)..it is not giving you the guarantee. So basically, what is Dedication ? Swimmer, Pool, Water, Swimming, Stroke. Some google meaning says that it is the quality of being dedicated or committed to a task or purpose, some says that it is the key to success, and some says it is the thing by which you get the life after the hell of great & poor experiences and many more blahhh blahhh...

But sometimes i think that ॐ is it like the same quality of God that he had decided that I would be creating such a huge and amazing universe ? Oh wow.. I mean it's really great man, I even can't think of it. Obviously I am not the God [what a joke]..LOL.. even if I were have to be the God and very fortunately I am not and even no creature is the GOD whom the self the God has created, otherwise it would be you know more destructive than what the God has given but anyway moving on to the next.

So even sometimes I think that ॐ is it like the Sun's quality where he has decided that it will continuously give his massive heat and incinerator from his inside?

.... It is really Oh My God Factor.... but that is somehow for the betterment of us only. Right to make this world an Utopia? Or maybe. So well, we all have the meanings of dedication in our different point of views and in our देखने का नज़रया (different different perspectives) and obviously on the perspective of our experiences. But also as we all know that every coin has two sides. Dedication maybe for the bad one or maybe for the good one. We all are very well aware that if one person is dedicated to something or someone then he might achieve that object. Yes after so many meanings and so many dictionaries of Dedication, you heard it right that He might achieve that thing, #He MIGHT because I personally believe that there is some point % of Luck. In today's world, everyone is just running after that achievement or success after that person to whom he/she is dedicated but that's okay and actually at some extent its very good because its competition...right ?..[Yes right] and if he/she gets that achievement fortunately, he/she says that it is because of his/her hard work based on that dedication, but those who lost, has the same kind of dedication Forest, Path, Mystical, Rocks, Fairytale on same kind of references, they either just blame on oneself that may be they hadn't done to that level or lastly 90% says that it was the winner's Luck. I guess he is also correct.. Luck is definitely there.. {otherwise dedication toh Yamraj ki bhi hoti hai jab bure se bure road accidents me logon Ko woh apne saath le jaane ke liye hote hain but luckily and astoundingly kahin na Kahin woh bach jaate hain or tab hum sab yahi kehte hain Ki Yeh toh unki Kismat thi jo itne bure accidents mien bhi Bach gaye warna Yamraj se aaj tak koi bach Paya Hai bhala?} So, On a good point, Dedication is The firm determination of those parents which prevents their children from going on the wrong path and for which they are ready to do anything and they work hard everyday and every second of their life just to give them a good life.

Family, Children, Father, Mother, Beach but if take it in the luck point of view : This is the fate of those parents whose children understands their hard work and do not give their parents an opportunity to complain in their old age. But if this does not happen by mistake, then the same parent says that their LUCK is bad that they have created such children. Old People's Home, Dementia, Woman, Old So, I end up on my part that success definitely meets of one's Hard work and dedication but it would be absolutely wrong to say that success only meets because of dedication because it is not so as success always comes with fate as well and if it does not , then we would never say that Just Do work hard, leave everything else to The God and who can understand this better than the young people of today? Even right now who is reading it too. [yes, I am talking about you.] But Yes obviously it is true that when one is Dedicated, the God is with him. But Luck still matters because the God is with everyone. No? Whether it is rich or poor they both do so much of hard work, but then all are different. But in the end, the most important thing is that how much we are satisfied with ourselves or with hard work or with our happiness.

सोचती हूँ कि कहाँ दिन निकल जाए, मेहनत से मंजिल थोड़ा पास है, सच्चे सपने का मोती तो मैं निकाल लाऊंगी क्योंकि मुझे खुद पर विश्वास है लेकिन अगर चमकता मोती इतना खास है तो पता है.. मुझे उसी चमकते मोती की आस है!

Yes I have made this super line (according to me) because i feel that shining pearl in the form of self satisfaction. Because of self satisfaction, being happy from inside and calm from within itself is like a Bright Pearl which every human has a full hope of achieving at the end of the day. Whether it is by getting the Goal or whether it is going through that path for getting that goal. Even though the goal may not be met, but at least we will not regret that we did not even try to get it. But yeah its true that Whatever the consequences of our destiny ... but our Dedication definitely helps us not to depend on fate.

So #STAY DEDICATED WITH LUCK AND GET YOUR REAL SHINING PEARL

COMMERCE DEPARTMENTBE AWARE AND BEWARE!!! SCAM ALERT

Our India is striving hard to get noticed and leaving a mark on the global economy. Be it our Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi's recent visits to other countries, other fiscal policies or economic policies.

But we got to give it to some individuals who have been successful in doing so without forming such complicated alliances. Be it a loving wife Chanda Kochhar who just innocently gave thousands of crores to her husband or be it a diamond merchant who is still leading a relaxed and luxurious life overseas with his new business.

One of the major problem faced by our economy is the accumulated NPAs, and these scams are not helping in any manner. Rs.14000 crore scam in PNB by Nirav Modi is a big slap on the face of banking sector. The ICICI bank's declaration of the Videocon loan as NPA, well it makes NPAs sound casual, doesn't it?

The major scams in India such as Satyam Scam, Harshad Mehta Scam, PNB Scam or the ICICI Scam, who is responsible, the Board of Governors? Or the Auditors? Or the CEOs? CFOs? Or should we just watch from the sidelines their game of well knit lies and see countries seeking extradition while they live like 'All Kings and Queens'?

Who is the ultimate loser here? the investors and the stakeholders of course, who are always kept in the dark. Unfortunately, our human mind is not that evolved to see behind the well kept façade of these evil masterminds and their award winning masterplan of sabotaging the investors' money.

Well the only thing we can do is 'BEWARE OF THESE SCAM GODS'.

SECTION 377

Supreme court decriminalized section 377 on 6th September 2018 which was last recriminalized in 2013. But what change with this?

Yes, LGBTQR people will not get arrested for loving someone.

But what next?

Will they be able to lead a normal life?

Wait NORMAL!! How can they lead a normal life when they are abnormal themselves. All these rights n all is a waste. These people need treatment as It's a disease which is needed to be cured. It's a psychological disorder which will spread if appreciated.

Really?? If LGBT is a disorder then do you have one.

Many people may not know that people in the world are categories primarily on the basis

1)GENDER

2)SEXUALITY/SEXUAL INTEREST

There are 3 types of gender currently known:-

Male

Female

Transgender

Also,4 kinds of sexuality: -

1)HETROSEXUAL- having interest in opposite gender

2) HOMOSEXUAL- having interest in same gender

3) BISEXUAL- having interest in both opposite and same gender

4) ASEXUAL- having no sexual interest at all

Heterosexuals are in majority which is the main reason because of which others are suppressed.

We are narrow minded humans we don't accept things which are different from us.

Some people are so inhumane that they get sadistic pleasure in teasing the people of LGBT community.

SHYAMA PRASAD MUKHERJI COLLEGE FOR WOMEN
COMMERCE DEPARTMENT

Many people have this view that LGBT is a foreign concept and it is spoiling our country. They think that new generation is accepting this because they are influenced by developed countries like America. They are obviously unaware of the Indian history.

The very concept of Transgender in India is not a new concept: they have been recognised in our ancient history as well. They, as a group, have got a strong historical presence in our country in the Hindu mythology and other religious texts. The literature named Kama Sutra the ancient Hindu text in which they have been referred as 'tritiyapakriti' or third gender, it also categorises men who desire other men as a 'third nature'.

Only economic growth or physical liberty will not make us free. We need to be free from our mind and thoughts. One must have an open view for the world to live happily.

Some movies and webseries may help you get the thing better. Like the American movie Love, Simon , ALT balaji's production Romil And Jugal , the "other" love story directed by Roopa Rao, section 377 of the youtube channel creative gypsy and many more

AMAZON

Amazon is a word which does not need an introduction in this era, It is a revolutionary company which changes the face of e-commerce. Amazon is one of the most valuable company which made Jeff Bezos the richest man in the world. Its last year revenue is $ 177.866 billion. It is founded by Jeff Bezos as an online book store but over the year it diversifies itself into many areas like video downloads/streaming, audiobook downloads/streaming, electronics, apparel, food, toys, and so on. It also owns companies like Audible Inc., Body Labs, Digital Photography Review, Goodreads, IMDb, Ring, Whole Foods Market, Woot, Zappos. Amazon is the largest e-commerce market and cloud computing platform in the world. It is also the largest Internet company by revenue in the world. And if not the No. 1 in industry, Amazon still manages to rank among the top 5 in every area. In 2015, Amazon surpassed Walmart as the most valuable retailer in the The United States by market capitalization. The cost of success Amazon is rising day by day and gives the best customer services where they treat the customer like a king. This raises the question. what is the cost of Amazon's success? Its workers, yes being the second largest employer in the U.S, many reports have come throughout the years where its employee tell their horror stories about intense work pressure and condition. How they have to work more than stipulated time to meet targets. 'One US worker described an "awful smell" coming from warehouse trash cans, saying coworkers would urinate in them for fear of missing their targets because they took too much time to go to the bathroom' - article on business insider The Internet is filled with more such stories.

Monopoly

Amazon is slowly becoming a monopoly. If a company becomes a monopoly, it can control the market, fix prices, kill competition and in simple words can make its own rule to win.

In the U.S to deal with monopolies, they have Antitrust Law 1890 which is used to break big companies control in the market. But these laws are hard to pose on the technology industry which makes it easy for Amazon to avoid it.

How Amazon creating its monopoly In an interview, Jeff Bezos himself agreed that "Amazon is famously known as an unprofitable company". Now, why Amazon get this title. There is a weird strategy which amazon uses, they lose money in order to gain market share. This strategy is known as Predatory Pricing. It refers to the pricing of goods or services at such a low level that other firms cannot compete and are forced to leave the market. Amazon using this strategy so sharply that there is no way out. A big example is when Amazon wants to buy diapers.com in 2009. But they refused the offer. Afterward, Amazon made amazon prime free for parents for three months with attractive packages & huge discounts, cut to a few months later diapers.com became insolvent and sold to Amazon. Another example of how Amazon cuts the competition. Let say a company X is selling its product on amazon.com. If their product demand increases Amazon will know as it got their database. Then Amazon will directly become the partner with the product manufacturers and start selling the product themselves cheaper which automatically cut out the company X. So companies cannot avoid amazon retail as it is the platform where everyone shops but then they steal their secret recipe in order to gain market share.

Why Amazon is allowed to rule the market?

Amazon dominates the entire market and one of the reason being that it is allowed to do so because it hasn't broken the cardinal rule of antitrust law " Consumer Welfare" introduced by Robert Bork. According to this rule until you keep the prices low and service great there is no restriction on the size of the company. Amazon is using this law for expanding their business. An unusual fact about Amazon is Amazon retail is never been profitable. Whereas the most profitable unit of Amazon is AWS (Amazon Web Services) with revenue of 17.46 billion in 2017. It is a web server which provides cloud services to its customers which is so dominating that even Netflix uses AWS services for streaming online.

Another point it made is that AWS got the customers' data. Unlike Google and Facebook who steal their customer data for showing relatable content. Amazon can get access to cloud data, find the interest and then suggest it on amazon prime in order to sell it.

At last, it is hard to question Amazon, it provides the best quality & service to its customer and fulfills the business ethics as well but Any hegemony can cost the entire society. The pace in which Amazon is gaining market share in the entire world. It can influence many economies altogether. To protect it from happening new amendments is needed in antitrust law. As the law made in the 1890s cannot be viable enough to control the activities of businesses in this technologically advanced world. The government needs to take a measurement to control its dominance.

RAISINA DIALOGUE

Designed on the lines of Singapore's Shangri-La Dialogue, RAISINA DIALOGUE is a multilateral conference held annually in New Delhi and has emerged as India's flagship conference on geo-economics and geopolitics. This was the fourth edition of Raisina Dialogue which was inaugurated by Prime Minister of Norway H E Ms Erna Solberg in the presence of Prime Minister of India Shri Narendra Modi and External Affairs Minister Smt. Sushma Swaraj. It went on from 08th to 10th January, 2019 with partnership of Ministry of External Affairs and Observer Research Foundation (ORF). The hosts were represented by external affairs minister Sushma Swaraj, foreign secretary Vijay Gokhale, Army chief General Bipin Rawat and former foreign secretary S. Jaishankar. The theme for this year was "A World Reorder: New Geometries; Fluid Partnerships; Uncertain Outcomes". The discussion was on to address issues arising from ongoing global transition triggered by unique leaders, innovative partnerships, new technologies. This dialogue brought 600 delegates from 93 countries, including influential world leaders, business representatives, academics, policy thinkers and makers on one stage to discuss variety of issues in light of ongoing tussle among major countries to become next world power and the consequences thereof. Leaders around the globe were present in order to express their views and concerns about the reordering of world and uncertainty surrounding it. A prominent feature of this year's conversation was Europe as this continent is considered as the benchmark of democracy and holds the most power but the growing populism and unpredictability is a worry for all. The growing tension between China and Canada as well the the trade war between China and the USA has become a reason for escalation of major powers leading to uncertainty among investors. The rise of non-market economies and the domestic compulsions is a threat to the foundation of free trade and market. One major focus of the event was the need of the sustainable development and how emerging economies are struggling to raise sufficient finance to meet its target. As they discussed on new order of world power , the leaders of these powers are equally significant and are driving forces , hence they are in the limelight and so are their policies affecting billions altogether. Former Afghan President Hamid Karzai spoke on relationship between India and Afghanistan and the role India can play in bringing peace in war torn Afghanistan by engaging with Taliban. Norwegian Prime Minister Erna Solberg in her inaugural speech cautioned that economic rivalry among nations cannot be allowed to dominate the world order and stressed on the need for the global cooperation in solving international problems, and pushed all countries to work towards meeting the Sustainable Development Goals, even though it seems “tough”. At last, such occasions provide a platform to host different views and engage in an interactive session and helps in deepening the relationships among states.

PROTECTING YOUR IDENTITY ONLINE

As our lives become increasingly digital, protecting your identity online is more relevant than ever before. We are signing up more accounts and sharing more information online, therefore identity threat and data breaches are becoming greater.

Digital identity theft can have serious impact on an individual's financial and physical health. Hackers and thieves can take over our financial information and stealing digital data and identity can lead to stress, depression and anxiety. In today's cyber world hackers stealing our information can lead to numerous problems such as creating fraudulent accounts and affect our social relationship online as well as offline. So to protect our digital identity and data, some precautions need to be taken which are as follows-

- 1. Protecting your identity on social networks- While registering on social networking and dating websites, consider how much information you are sharing for public view. Review your profile and privacy settings from time to time and adjust them to a level you are comfortable with. Beware of the default setting which is often public. Only accept friend request from a person you know and if on a dating site talk with the other person only on the dating platform. Share your number only when you are ready.
- 2. Protecting your professional identity- Building and managing public online profiles can help potential employers assess candidates and employees but again that involves risk of identity theft. Do not share your phone number, address or any other sensitive information unless asked for it by verified sources. Employers can ask candidates to share their information using a digital identity, This could give confidence to both employers and employees that the information is received from and shared to the right person.
- 3. Keep track of your online accounts- It is important to keep track of the different online accounts that we have and delete the one which we no longer use. The more online accounts we have, the bigger the risk of identity and personal information being compromised. A password manager is a good way to keep track of the websites we are signed up for. It can list the different accounts we have, login details for and safely store these details for us. A password manager can encrypt and securely save all our passwords offering a more secure way of logging into accounts.

These are just a few ways to keep track of your online presence. It is very important to be careful while sharing any information and we must keep our online life in control rather than letting it control us by giving our information in the wrong hands.

The calmness of woods, the sound of birds whistling through the sky, the cold breeze of wind flowing right through my heart, the peaceful yet sometimes monstrous nature makes me crave more for it. The beautiful detailed creation of nature swallows my mind and my heart.

The trip to Manali was one for me. It made me greedy and increased my desire for more of it. I sat there for hours looking at the never ending world from the top of the mountain. The wind breeze making my eyes watery yet making it feel calm and the blue sky with the birds reminding me how far I have to go.

The nature is beautiful, worth to enjoy . I was like lost in woods,lost in myself. I was caught up in a swirling vortex of emotions.

Gulping inside yourself these memories is much effective and have more storage than the Google Photos or the hard drive can ever have.

So enjoy nature, respect it and conserve it because world is not a 2 min cup noodle. We have to conserve it for us and for future generation.

POEMS

THE AUTHENTIC POLITICIAN

It is with great inspiration
And call on a certain incorporation
Which should prove to be a sensation.

It is with great expatiation
And call on a certain reaction
Which should prove to be a connection.

With all that are exerting concentration
To the great words of my creation
Like wide-eyed sheep to destruction
You follow the visuals of my imagination.

And when you leave this exhibition
It will be with a need for contemplation
On my many words of idealisation
For a world with great skills of organisation.

But if you still have the inner voice of preservation
You will reach to the realisation
That the meaning of my incantation
Is to create in you ... Frustration.

Yes in religion, yes in culture
Yes in gender and that is the juncture
It is a curse on the universe
Some ask why is it that worse?
I say we are diverse
Yes in gender, yes in framework
One is judgemental, one is silenced
One works, the other works
But reimbursed diverse
One is bossy, one is suppressed
One has superiority, other begs equality
Now that you know we are diverse

WAR AND WAR, SOME MORE WAR

War and War, Some more war,
Wars are happening,
Every decade every century,
Because we human are inherently pernicious,
With time we have developed enough hatred inside,
On the name religion, caste, colour, nation, language, class, natural resources
But these are just tools,
Ego is the core issue,
Human can't be happy,
Because we want more,
Soul of nation, nourished by people,
Their happiness, unhappiness, envy, jealousy,
We bring wars,
War brings destruction.
Loss to economy,
Loss to families,
The whole sky is dying,
It is good that sun shines
Some are immortals,
Some went missing
No one gets anything .
A mother loses her son,
A sister loses her brother,
A father loses his shining star.
Now we want peace,
An end to promises,
Perhaps an end to other us.
War and War some war,
War and War some war,
No one knows,
What it's for.

WELCOME TO SOCIETY

A WOMAN

A WORD OF 5 LETTERS

But it denies a lot of things altogether
The wrong beauty ideas of society
Why we should waxed legs and hands
Why perfect eyebrows,
Why perfect waterlines,
Why we should hide our stretch marks,
Why upper lips,
Why we can't have a scar,
Why we can't flaunt our pimple,
Why we should hide our stretch marks,
Why abandon short dresses,
We are comfortable in what we are,
Why you have defined rules of our life,
People judge us for the way we look
The things they hear about us
They put labels on us
And we have to live with those for the rest of life
Man does not know how it feels like
But every single girl does
They say just one word to define you
And it becomes your job to prove them wrong
We are human beings too
Why they tell us to be fake
We all are created by god
God made us beautiful in some ways
We all are free but let us fly too
We all have dreams but let us chase ours
We too are battling but let us fight our battles
We are too waiting for lights at the end of tunnel
We are too fighting to survive
Life is hard for all of us.

LOVE AS IN COMMERCE

Love can be called as an intangible asset,
But it is surely a fixed,
But it is also the goodwill of the business firm,
Where firms are the human souls.

It changes its form
as a capital in the balance sheet
Is the summation of the commitment
And special care
Where the former being assets & latter as liabilities.

It should always be credited as
Net profit,
in the profit & loss account.
should be debited as surplus in Income and expenditure A/C.

It is not to be considered as position
Statement
But not an income statement.
It's difficult to calculate its ratio,
But easy in flow statement.

The admission is restricted,
Once retired then it's not possible
To re registered.
If death occurred then executors

Gets over flooded with love,

UNFINISHED

I fetch those tears, I fetch 'em everyday, and smeared them on a canvas , the canvas that she made.
 I twist gentle strokes of brush and watch the colours play.
 I made her a necklace of stones shells and clay.
 She wanted to fly free in the night sky with fireflies ,
 She wanted to swim with dolphins in the Arabic Sea and run around tangerine tree and gaze marmalade skies with head lay in green cover beneath.
 I bid my final adieu with a letter I wrote with tears.
 She left me with a scented kiss on my cheek with a lipstick mark that I wish never fade with the memories i digged in my grave.

I wanted her happiness
 She wanted her peace
 The two coincide and she choose to leave.
 We parted ways not because i wanted to but beacuse she said it was what they call destiny.
 I waved my hand in the dead air,
 She turned to me with a smile that faded away as she approached the destination unknown to me.
 My heart skipped a beat and every beat reminisce those flashbacks from past.
 My heart stumbled and knees grew weak, mind raced as fast as it could thinking of ideas of every possible reunion.
 I froze in inferno of desires that overpowered my sensibilities.
 I grew selfish for a nano second before realising she was nowhere near my horizon,
 And yet again she left me silently.

Sometimes you rise, sometimes you fall,
Sometimes you are thrilled with excitement
Sometimes you are filled with anxiety
Sometimes you end up being sad
Sometimes you end up being happy
Sometimes you go slow
Sometimes you go way fast
No matter what, you have to go through it once you started
Till the time it ends just like a roller coaster ride
Everyone have to go through hardships struggles and pressure
So who is the real winner here?
Maybe that kid who at the end happy anyway, anywhere
May be his innocence helped him enjoy good stuff
And his carefree attitude helped him let go bad stuff
At the end it's our life our choice our way

रो लूँ क्या मैं भी रोना की लड़की हूँ,
या उड़ जाऊँ बनके परिंदा और पा लूँ मैं मकाम।।

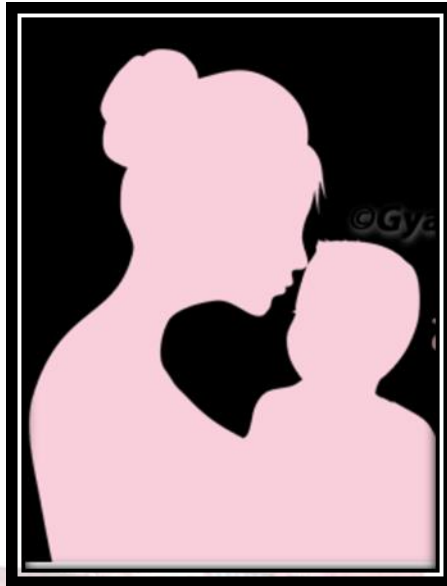

अरे मां सुनती हो छोड़ दो देना ताने, कि अगले घर जाऊंगी, दिखाने दों मुझे जज्बा गुणगान तुम्हारे गाऊंगी,
ख्वाब आज भी वहीं हैं, तेरे स्वपन पूरे कर जाऊंगी,
पर याद रखना पिता मेरे, बेटी तुम्हारी ही कहलाऊंगी,
तुम ही बतादो की छू लूँ क्या आसमान या करने दूँ उस चांद को खुद पर गुमान,
मेरी जिंदगी कोई झील नहीं, जो कोई डूबे और खो जाए ,
मेरी जिंदगी हैयरत है, जो गहराई में जाए गर्दिश ही पाए,।।

तुम ही बतादो की छू लूँ क्या आसमान, या करने दूँ उन बादलों को खुद पर गुमान।।

महज़ शायरी कर देने से,
या चार पंक्तिया लिख देने से,
मेरी उड़ान खत्म नहीं हो जाएगी,,
मुझे फक्र है आज भी,
जिनके ज्ञान देने से ,
जिनके साथ देने से,
जिनका प्यार पाने से,
शुरू हुई मेरी उड़ान,
उनके सम्मान में शीश झुकाऊंगी,
उनके सम्मान मे शीश झुकाऊँगी,
इन्ही ने बताया कि पाना है ये जहान, ताकि मा, पिता, गुरु
सब कर सकें खुद पर गुमान
सब कर सकें खुद पर गुमान।।

A SWEET HUG

Your Mother is always with you.....
She's the whisper of the leaves
As you walk down the street....
She's the cool hand on your brow
When you're not well...
Your mother lives inside your laughter and
She's crystallized in every tear drop....
She's the place you came from,
Your first home
And...She's the map you follow
With every step you take....
She's your first love and your first heartbreak
And.....Nothing on earth can separate you from her
Not time....Not space....Not even death!!

BALANCE SHEET OF LIFE

Dr.A.P.J. Abdul Kalam says , "what hurts you today, makes you stronger tomorrow."
A true success does not come without falling in the way. The things we achieve without any effort does not remain for long last .

Sometimes , losing in the life race teaches us big lesson . How far is our goal ,does not matter . How we cover
That distance matter and what we learn during that journey is much important .

The time is like flowing river , it will never come back again.. So, never regret on past ,see hope in future
And focus on today which will lead to our success..
